

ERA Group helps senior retirement community save nearly $300K annually

The client

Methodist Retirement Communities (MRC) is a nonprofit, faith-based senior living provider operating in Texas, with six established locations and recent expansion into Corpus Christi and Fort Worth.

The challenge

Despite strong internal expense management, MRC needed external expertise to keep operations best-in-class during a period of rapid growth, with limited time and resources to identify cost-saving opportunities.

The solution

ERA conducted a comprehensive analysis of MRC's spending — even in areas already reduced — finding savings across multiple categories and improving operational efficiency. Although MRC already leveraged a Group Purchasing Organization (GPO), ERA further improved the terms and conditions of that relationship, delivering unexpected value without disrupting existing vendor ties.

The result

In its first year working with ERA, MRC uncovered nearly $300,000 in annualized savings across six key spend categories, allowing leaders to reinvest dollars into patient care programs.

Total annual savings realized

$285,250

Pharmaceuticals	$112,000 21%
Medical supplies	$76,000 13%
Cleaning supplies	$34,000 15.1%
Linen rentals	$33,000 18.5%
Food	$22,000 4%
Office supplies	$8,250 10.8%

"We manage expenses well, so I thought ERA would be wasting their time and quite possibly mine. Honestly, I was surprised and pleased by the amount of additional cash that has fallen to our bottom line beyond what we had found ourselves."
