

ERA optimizes One Community Health's costs as they continue providing optimal care

The client

One Community Health, in Sacramento, California, with a primary focus on serving people with HIV/AIDS.

The challenge

When the clinic underwent a leadership change, one of the new CEO's priorities was to improve operational efficiency. Having experienced ERA's services as a senior executive at another health center, the CEO knew the cost savings and added value ERA brings could be substantial.

The solution

After analyzing 11 cost categories, ERA specialists found seven where savings could be realized — uncovering $645,583 in annual savings, while the remaining four were validated as already running optimally. Re-negotiating bundled services with the reference lab provider saves over $102,000 annually, and the review surfaced an additional $65,000 in billing credits. Shifting same-day prescription delivery from the national incumbent to a qualified local courier improved service and saved over $110,000 a year.

The result

With the realized savings and continuity of leadership, One Community Health can redeploy funds to further its mission and provide essential care to underserved members of the Sacramento community.

Total annual savings realized

$645,583

Reference lab services	$187,160
Language translation	$158,226
Small parcel delivery	$120,253
Medical supplies	$83,215
Office & janitorial supplies	$38,050
Waste management	$36,367
Telecommunications	$11,726
Staff services	$6,800
Dental supplies	$3,786

"Our work with ERA has allowed us to ensure we get the maximum value possible with every dollar spent. The savings we've enjoyed have helped offset the cost of a recent organization-wide wage adjustment keeping us competitive in a challenging labor market."

MICHELLE MONROE, CEO, ONE COMMUNITY HEALTH